A Rose Journey – Stephanie Judge's Talk at UNSH meeting 16th October 2022

In her childhood, Stephanie lived on a 5-acre property at Vineyard where her Mum & Dad grew all sorts of vegetables and flowers and that was the start of her love of gardening. She loved being outdoors and would collect bunches of flowers, often taking them to her teachers. At an early age she decided that she wanted a garden when she grew up.

As a 21-year-old she fell in love with red roses and so began her journey with roses. She visited her local nursery and spoke to the manager about procuring red rose bushes as she wanted a Valentine's Day rose but with a perfume. She subsequently bought 12 bushes of her still favourite red rose Avon.

Stephanie was single at the time and so pursued her career of hairdressing and used to take her roses into the salon. Whilst in the salon a client of hers (who was on the committee for the Hawkesbury Agricultural Show) talked to her about going further with her love of plants and encouraged Stephanie to enter her roses in the show. Around the same time Steph joined UNSH from its inception.

Later, she moved to a residential block in South Windsor and had a blank canvas to work with. Her new husband bought her a beautiful valentine's day present - a gift of money to go and buy her roses. Again, she bought Avon roses - 6 of them and she also bought, on the recommendation of the garden manager at the nursery, 6 Firefighter roses.

Stephanie did enter the Hawkesbury Ag Show with her roses in the Novice Class and got two prizes - a first for her Avon exhibit and a second for a Firefighter exhibit. Once having won a first prize in the Novice Section of the show, there on after she would have to enter the "General Section". There are no Class A, B or C in the Hawkesbury Show as there are in Rose Society shows.

Steph benched at UNSH for a little while with lovely blooms and Kate encouraged her to enter the Rose Society shows even though she felt very inexperienced. In her first show she benched a yellow rose in the full bloom class in the Sydney Regional 2017 show. Graham Wright was the judge at that show and as Steph was keen to learn much more about exhibiting roses, she transferred her membership to the Macarthur Regional where Graham was a member (he was also a Sydney Royal Easter Show judge). She subsequently won a Championship ribbon in the Bud to Bloom section in the 2019 Macarthur show.

Stephanie has recently transferred to the Nepean Blue Mountains Hawkesbury Regional where both Doug and Glynis Hayne are always ready to guide new exhibitors. At the recent Nepean show Steph won a prestigious Championship Ribbon for her exhibit of Papa Meilland in the Bud to Full Bloom Class.

Steph showed us a photo of the B2B exhibition she benched and told us how and when to pick the roses for this Class which is very tricky. She also benched Perfume Passion (this time a pink rose) and was surprised to win a C Grade Champion Ribbon. It looks like Stephanie is destined to be promoted to B Grade so there is hope for us Novice exhibitors!

The recent floods in the Hawkesbury have not been kind to Stephanie with water entering her house and her roses suffered. She needed to remove soil and start again to build up the soil for her roses.

So, the journey continues, new exhibitor lessons are learnt, and friendships formed around her love of roses. But the sweet perfume of Avon remains Steph's signature rose.
